

The Open Movement in Higher Education

Sheila Corral Chair, LIS Program, University of Pittsburgh

Thursday, October 15, 10:30am-noon

Hillman Library G-74, Pitt

Openness enhances research and learning. Open benefits individuals & institutions. How can you can promote & advance openness?

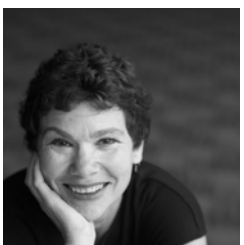

In Broad Daylight: Innovation & Transparency in Peer Review

Monday, October 19, 4:30-6pm

University Club Ballroom A, Pitt

- Larry Kane F1000 Research
- Josh Nicholson The Winnower
- Brandon Stell PubPeer
- Lenny Teytelman @ProtocolsIO

Independent peer review supports scholarship. Traditional peer review is fraught with issues. Digital Age innovations address issues, promote transparency and accelerate research.

Got Data? Building a Sustainable Ecosystem for Data Driven Research

Francine Berman U.S. lead, Research Data Alliance

Wednesday, October 21, 5-6pm

Gregg Hall (Porter 100), CMU

Lack of a healthy ecosystem for data stewardship, preservation and use puts critical data at risk. Creating a viable ecosystem to help advance discovery and research.

NFAIS VIRTUAL CONFERENCE

Open Access Models: Finding Stable, Sustainable & Scalable Solutions

Friday, October 23, 9 am-4:30pm

Hillman Library G-74, Pitt

Which financial models will foster Open Access long term, in concert with traditional publishing?

COLLOQUIUM

Open Data & Research Futures

Thursday, October 29, 4-6pm

Mellon Institute Library, MI 4, CMU

use S Bellefield Ave entrance

Meet, greet—and learn how your colleagues facilitate, require & use open data.

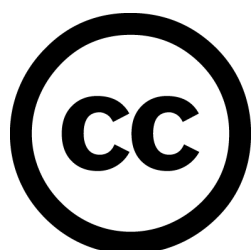

4pm poster session & hors d'oeuvres

- Open data projects at CMU & Pitt

4:30-5:30pm panel discussion

- Mario Bergés IBM Smart Infrastructure Analytics Lab (CMU)
- Bob Gradeck W PA Regional Data Center (Pitt)
- Geoff Hutchison Pitt Quantum Repository (Pitt)
- Christopher Warren Six Degrees of Francis Bacon (CMU)
- Moderated by Keith Webster Dean of CMU Libraries

5:30-6pm poster session & hors d'oeuvres

Creative Commons Film & Trivia Night

Date & time TBA

Nordy's, The William Pitt Union, Pitt

Screening short films from the Blender Institute of Film & Animation in celebration of Open Access in the arts. Refreshments during screenings. Vote for winning film & play pub quiz for prizes.

